Neurology® 2023;100:1-8. doi:10.1212/WNL.0000000000201681

Peer review is central to all aspects of the scientific enterprise, from initial grant funding to final publication. Feedback from peer reviewers informs our editorial decisions and helps authors improve their manuscripts. The work of our reviewers helps us maintain the high standards of this journal, contribute to the advancement of the field, and eventually helps our patients. It is therefore with much gratitude that the editors and editorial team of Neurology® acknowledge the committed peer reviewers whose volunteered time and efforts over the last 6 months have helped to shape this publication.

In the 6-month interval from April 1, 2022, through September 30, 2022, Neurology received 2,658 new and 709 revised manuscripts, and the reviewers listed in this article completed 3,815 reviews. For comparison, the figures for the same period ending in 2021 were 2,946 new and 650 revised manuscripts, and 5,379 completed reviews. The average time for reviewers to complete their work decreased from 21 to 19.5 days.

We are also pleased to acknowledge contributors to the digital podcasts. The Neurology Podcast, one of the first podcasts in medical education, was founded in 2007 by Ted Burns, MD. Episodes of the podcast were downloaded 789,060 times in the reporting period. The Neurology Minute® Daily Briefing, launched in 2019 to provide clinically relevant neurology news in 1–2 minutes, has averaged 5,026 downloads per day in the reporting period. Thanks to the contributions of Editor Stacey Clardy, MD, PhD, FAAN, Deputy Editor Jeff Ratliff, MD, and the interviewer producers of the Podcast team, our podcasts provide unique insights that affect clinical practice and patient care in an engaging and convenient format.

If you would like to do more reviews, or if you have never reviewed for the journal but are interested in doing so, please send an email to journal@neurology.org. For guidance in reviewing, see the Information for Reviewers (IFR) link at n.neurology.org/submit/submitreview. Click on this link for information on expectations of reviewers regarding confidentiality, timeliness, and reviewer conflicts of interest. The IFR also provides instructions for formatting the comments to editors and authors to make communication with authors most effective.

The reviewers listed below with 1 asterisk have reviewed 5 or more papers between April 1 and September 30, 2022. Two asterisks indicate that the reviewer has reviewed 10 or more manuscripts during this period. This list includes those reviewers who returned a review or reviews of initial submissions (rereviews of the same manuscript are not included).
